Integrator Duplication card with Magnetic strip

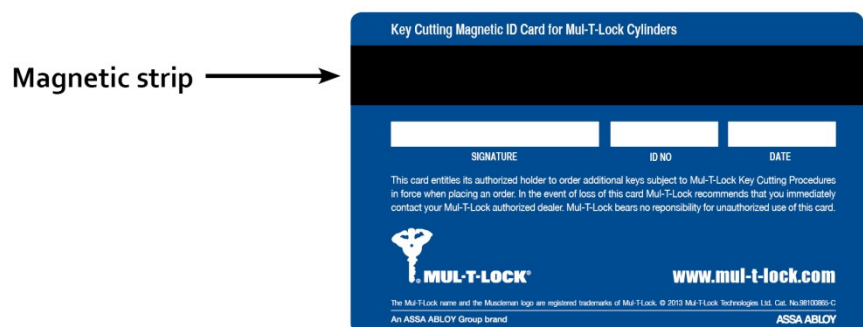

We are all familiar with our duplication card supplied in every Integrator package. The key card must be presented in any key duplication request.

We have decided to upgrade the existing Integrator key card and to add an encoded magnetic strip to the card.

This change will provide advanced key control.

It also completes our patented range of keys which can be cut on the KC5 machine by simply swiping the card and makes both the products and the machine more attractive.

This change will be affected as from April 2013
